

New director welcomed

The Iron County Museum in Caspian welcomed its new director, Ross Parcels (second from left) at a special open house on June 29. Parcels, is pictured here with his wife, Linda Murto, and Harold and Marcia Bernhardt, museum founders and directors. Parcels is a former Iron River resident and was named museum director following an extensive search by the Iron County Historical and Museum Society Board and will be overseeing activities at the museum. The Bernhardts will remain an active duo at the museum, a project they undertook in the 1960s, devoted to preserving the rich heritage of Iron County.
